FOOD CRISIS BATTLE Britain To Surrender 200,000 Tons More Wheat; "A Sheer Gamble" Hoover Statement Denied

CHURCH AND POLITICS

London, May 18.
The Catholic Church in Italy will throw its full weight into the coming elections, said a professor of Gregorian University in Rome in a broadcast over the Vatican radio on "The Present Hour in Italy."

Explaining the attitude of the Catholic Church toward the elections, the professor said the question of monarchy or republic was of no concern to the Church, since the Church is indifferent to any form of government. But there were still Italians who believed that they could be within the Church and at the same time follow Marxist philosophy.

To enlighten the Catholics on this point and save "the Christian situation in Italy"—as the Pope recently said—the professor declared that all churches throughout Italy would celebrate next Sunday (preceding the general election) as a day of "Constitutional assembly," stressing the precise duty of every Christian to go to the polls.—Reuter.

Truman Takes Over U.S. Railways

Washington, May 18.
President Truman last night signed an executive order, seizing the American railroads. The President took over in an effort to prevent the strike scheduled for 9 p.m. GMT on Saturday.

Minutes before the executive order, union leaders left the White House saying that they would not ask their men to stay on the job if the Government seized the lines.

Asked whether the strike would go on as scheduled, President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Trainmen said "Yes, sir."

Mr. Truman in a statement called upon the workers to cooperate and remain on the job. The White House said the Office of Defense Transportation would operate the carriers. A strike of 250,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Trainmen would immediately cripple a railway transportation system of more than 225,000 miles of track throughout the entire nation within a week if the strike remains effective.

Serious Consequences.
Observers predict such far-reaching consequences as a breakdown of freight shipping, the closing of key industries because of the lack of fuel and raw materials and the gradual slowing down of the nation's economic life resulting in losses that might take months or years to be recovered.

The effect of any rail strike will be intensified, because it follows the recent strikes of motor-car, electrical goods, steel, copper, lead and coal mining industries.

American industry is still struggling to recover from the disastrous coal strike which was suspended with a twelve-day truce on May 18.

No Supplies.
Railways are now operating on a reduced schedule because of the lack of fuel and coal.

Surprise For 60 British Widows

London, May 18.
Sixty British widows are in for a pleasant surprise when the postman gives a double knock at their doors some day within the next few weeks to deliver parcels from Queensland, Australia.

The women have been chosen for their thriftiness and for the burden they have borne during the war years.

The husband of each was killed and each has three children.

Their names have been sent by the Ministry of Pensions to a group of Queensland women, who will reward them with parcels of Australian food and luxuries.

The women are scattered throughout Britain and the arrival of the parcels will be a complete surprise.—Reuter.

Asked whether the new cut would mean bread rationing in Britain, Mr. Morrison said, "I am not sure. I do not want to do it if I can help—it does not smell good to me. But the British Government will have to decide to carry on as at present and squeeze through till September—it would be an awfully tight squeeze, a sheer gamble."

Announcing a general agreement between the British and United States governments on food, as a result of his talks here this week, Mr. Morrison told correspondents that he and American officials had also agreed in principle on a ration level for the British, American and probably French Zones of Germany.

While details of such agreement had yet to be worked out, he expressed confidence that the impending crisis in the British Zone could be averted.

Threat Averted

He also announced increased shipments will be going to India which, while not meeting India's request, would mean that the threatened breakdown in the Indian rationing structure by the end of June could be averted.

Mr. Morrison said that in his discussions with the President, the Assistant Secretary of State (Mr. William Clayton), the Secretary of Agriculture (Mr. Clinton Anderson) and the working parties of both sides, it had been agreed that the total supplies in May-September were some 10,000,000 tons against requirements of 13,400,000.

Reporting that the deficit gap has been materially closed, he added that means of doing this had yet to be implemented by the Combined Food Board and would inevitably mean a cut in most nations' requirements.

A Blow

Disclosing that he agreed only yesterday afternoon to a diversion which will be made not from the pipeline or stocks, but from supplies that Britain was due to receive between now and September, he said, "It will be a blow to my Government, but everybody has to do his best in this matter."

Mr. Morrison condemned the allegation made by Mr. Hoover that Britain was in a position to surrender 800,000 tons. "His allegation that we have got such stocks is absolutely unfounded—and I think I know as much about British food stocks as anybody. I deny it completely."

After repeating that Britain still expected replacement from the United States of the 200,000 tons previously surrendered, Mr. Morrison added, "There is no guarantee of replacement of this new cut. It is much more serious.—Reuter."

ITALIAN LABOUR

London, May 18.
The "Evening News" reported today that thousands of skilled Italian foundry workers, unemployed in their own country, may be brought to Great Britain to break the 12-hour shortage in British foundries.

When the suggestion first came before the Recruitment Committee of the Ministry of Labour, it was rejected outright by the unions, says the "Evening Standard"—Reuter.

Went For Wife, Brought Cows

Melbourne, May 18.
H. A. Burns of Adelaide went to England to bring back his English bride—and returned to Melbourne with four bulls and four heifers instead. Transport for Mrs. Burns just couldn't be found.

Burns met his wife while he was in the service in London and returned to Australia expecting his wife to follow him shortly. He waited a year, then got passage back to England.

The couple tried vainly to find a way to come back here together. Finally, he found that he could sail home alone again—providing he cared for eight head of prize cattle on the voyage. Now, at last, Burns has learned that his wife really is on her way.—Associated Press.

SPANISH COMMUNIST TRIALS OPEN

Madrid, May 18.
Charges against one of the four Spanish Communists charged before a Court Martial here today with Military rebellion—Ramon Gomez, son of Tripo Gomez, the well-known former trade union leader, were dropped by the prosecution late today.

The prosecution demanded 20-year sentences for the most prominent of the accused, Santiago Alvarez, Sebastian Zapirain and two others, two years for the only woman charged, Margarita Rivalta, and five others, and five years for three of the men.

The defence maintained that there was no case against Zapirain and Alvarez since they had committed no offence between the time of their arrival in Spain and their arrest.

The charge against Margarita Rivalta should also be withdrawn, it was contended. Zapirain said he should have been tried by a civil court. He denied taking part in the production of clandestine newspapers either in Spain or in America.

Alvarez, who, with Zapirain, has been in prison since last August, said that since the Spanish civil war he had lived in Cuba, running a business of his own.

Civil War Fighter

"I asked the leaders of the Spanish Communists in Mexico to send me back to Spain. I felt it my patriotic duty. I landed at Barcelona under another name. In July last, I was arrested together with Zapirain at a meeting on August 25."

He admitted that he had written a pamphlet, found on him, urging the Communists to attack farms and shops, with the help of guerrillas, where necessary.

Zapirain, former reporter of the Spanish Communist newspaper Mundo Obrero, said he was ordered to write the pamphlet.

GUN DUEL IN HEART OF VICTORIA

CROWDS HUNDREDS STRONG JAMMED DES VOEUX ROAD AND THE PRAYA OPPOSITE DOUGLAS WHARF FOR MORE THAN TWO HOURS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON IN AN EFFORT TO WITNESS A GUN BATTLE BETWEEN POLICE AND ARMED GANGSTERS WHICH, AT ONE TIME, LOOKED LIKE DEVELOPING INTO A MINIATURE OF LONDON'S SYDNEY STREET SIEGE.

THE GANGSTERS, TRAPPED IN THE PREMISES THEY WERE RANSACKING WHEN A POLICE PARTY SUDDENLY APPEARED ON THE SCENE, OPENED FIRE ON A SQUAD OF DETECTIVES FROM CENTRAL STATION LED BY INSPECTORS WATSON AND MCCAHEY.

Two of the robbers raced through the corridor in an attempt to make the street through No. 16, Connaught Road China, without which there will be the wrist in an exchange of fire with Insp. Watson.

The gangsters, four in number, entered the first floor of 21, Connaught Road Central, the offices of the Tai Ping Motor Junk Company, at about 2.30 p.m. The police were on the scene 15 minutes later.

Immediately upon entering the premises they divided forces, two proceeding to the front and two to the rear part of the office.

Visitors Tied Up
The inmates were herded into the back room where their hands were tied behind their backs with wire. Visitors who dropped in casually were allowed to enter and then tied up at pistol point. The robbers had managed to get the safe open when the police arrived.

The police were informed of the robbery by telephone. The occupants of the premises next door communicating with the station after their suspicions had been aroused by snatches of conversation overheard from the next room.

Hundreds were attracted to the scene by the shooting and the continuous arrival of police reinforcements. Traffic along Connaught Road was held up for some time as the area was cordoned off.

The robbers endeavoured to escape by gaining the street through adjoining premises, two being caught in No. 16 and two more in No. 19, ground floor, the premises of Messrs. A. Kwai & Co., Shipchangers.

BRITISH TO LEAVE INDIA

New Delhi, May 18.
The British Cabinet mission's three members, facing questions by newsmen, asserted repeatedly today that this time the British definitely intend to leave India.

Lord Pethick Lawrence, Secretary of State for India, said the liquidation of the India Office already has begun, but the Cabinet Mission will remain in India because "our next job is to get the plan accepted by the two main bodies—the Moslems and Hindus."

He added "No time limit has been set for the completion of the constitution since that is an affair of the Indians."

Jinnah is expected to state his views on the proposal today.—Associated Press.

U.S. Reaction

Washington, May 18.
Mr. Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, yesterday formed the British proposals for India as a statesmanlike and constructive solution toward the problem of independence.

This was the first official American government reaction to the plan.

Answering a news conference question, Acheson said that while he had not read the complete text of the British plan, it had impressed the United States Government favourably. He indicated that America looked with favour on both the long-range plan and the provision calling for the immediate establishment of an all-India Council.—Associated Press.

What India Thinks

London, May 18.
"What India resents most, far more than her present internal constitution of positions of authority exercised for the time being by Englishmen under that constitution, is the idea that India, with her ancient civilization, and her present importance in world affairs, should be rated in the eyes of the world as subordinate, while China, in no respect her superior, should figure as one of the Great Powers," says Mr. L. S. Amery, former Secretary of State for India, in a letter to "The Times."

"To get rid of that passionate and universal resentment, to my mind, the first step towards creating an atmosphere in which both India's future relationship to the Commonwealth and her own internal constitution can be profitably approached," he concluded.

Mr. Amery said he saw no reason why Britain should not declare that she will regard her relations with the interim government "as in no way different from our relations with the government of any other partner member of the Commonwealth or, for that matter, with any other nation outside the Commonwealth."—Reuter.

U.S. Does Not Favour Communism

Washington, May 18. The State Department today endorsed a declaration by its ranking diplomat in Tokyo that the United States does not favour Communism in either the United States or Japan.

Mr. Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, at a news conference read the text of a statement made to the Allied Council in Tokyo on Wednesday by George Acheson Jr., Council Chairman and General MacArthur's diplomatic adviser.

The Russian member had demanded from MacArthur's headquarters information on charges in a Japanese May Day message presented to the Council.

Acheson, taking the issue with the Russian delegate, described the message as an attempt to spread Communist propaganda. He said the message had originally been drawn up in a foreign language and then translated into Japanese.

Mr. Acheson's statement said the United States supports full political liberties for Communists and others in Japan but does not favour Communism in either America or Japan.

After reading Acheson's declaration, Acheson said he concurred in it and the government supports it.—Associated Press.

Too Much Like Hitler

Chicago, May 17. The American Library Association termed the decision of Allied authorities to bar Nazi publications from German bookstores and libraries as "shortsighted, unsound and contrary to democratic principles."

In a telegram to President Harry Truman asking that the order be revoked, an officer of the Association said:

"As officers of the American Library Association, we protest with all possible emphasis the reported decision of Allied authorities in Germany to confiscate and destroy Nazi publications. With full endorsement of the obvious motive to stamp out Nazism, we are confident that the method will be condemned in America and all over the world as being shortsighted and contrary to democratic principles. If the reports are true, we urge that the order be revoked."—Associated Press.

BRITISH AGREEMENT WITH PERON

London, May 18. The British and Argentine Governments are today signing an agreement for the operation of reciprocal air services between their respective territories.

A 17½ hour reduction on the overall time taken on flights from Buenos Aires to London by British South American Airways' Lancastrian aircraft is announced. The revised schedule will come into force today.

British-South American Airways officials state that it will now be possible to travel from the Argentine to Britain in 54½ hours of which the actual flying time accounts for 35½ hours.—Reuter.

Athens, May 18. Premier Constantine Tsaldaris told Parliament today that Greek Communists are free to advocate their policies to "whatever extent is desirable within the limits of lawfulness." He did not explain what he regarded as the legal limits of Communist activity, but said that if the leftist group "elect" to prevail by means of terrorism it will be met as a revolution.—Associated Press.

Stiff British Note To Warsaw

London, May 18. Britain, stung by a Polish official's assertion that UNRRA was using food for political purposes in Europe, told the war-liberated country yesterday that the remarks were "peculiarly inappropriate and offensive."

If British efforts on Poland's behalf are to be met in this way, said the curt official note released by the Foreign Office, "His Majesty's Government would know in the future that their aid should be reserved for those who know how to appreciate it."

The British attributed the remark to Poland's first vice-premier, M. Gromulka, in a speech made on April 30. The Foreign Office said that Gromulka was reported to have declared that UNRRA's food was being used to influence voters in the

Commends India Plan To People Every Reason To Be Proud

NEW DELHI, MAY 18. MOHANDAS GANDHI TONIGHT COMMENDED TO THE INDIAN PEOPLE AT HIS EVENING PRAYER MEETING THE BRITISH PROPOSALS FOR A "UNION OF INDIA" AND SAID THEY CONTAIN "THE SEED TO CONVERT THIS LAND OF SORROW INTO ONE WITHOUT SORROW AND SUFFERING."

THE NATIONALIST PAPER "HINDU," THE MOST IMPORTANT ORGAN IN THE PROVINCE OF MADRAS, TODAY DESCRIBED THE PROPOSALS AS A "CONSTRUCTIVE SCHEME."

Whatever one may think of this or that detail of the scheme, it is not to be denied that it is constructive in character, progressive in outlook, and animated by a genuine desire to break the deadlock, which is largely of Britain's making.

The Nationalist "Sind Observer" of Karachi says the proposals "are not such as should be rejected out of court by any party in this country."

Mr. Gandhi said, "There are some who said the English were incapable of doing the right thing. I do not agree with them. The Mission and the Viceroy were as God-fearing as we ourselves claim to be."

"It is beneath our dignity as men to men to doubt a person before he is proved to be untrue to his word. Whatever the wrong done to India by the British, if the statement of the Mission is genuine, as I believe it is in discharge of an obligation they have declared the British owed towards India, namely to get off India's back."

He asked the people of India to examine the proposals, not from a parochial standpoint, but from that of the whole country. It was, he said, "open for a constituent assembly to abolish the distinction of Moslems and non-Moslems, which the mission had felt forced to recognise. The provinces are free to reject the very idea of grouping."

Q. O. C.'s Broadcast "Subject to these interpretations, the Mission has brought forth something of which they have every reason to be proud," concluded Mr. Gandhi.

General Sir Claude Auchinleck, Commander-in-Chief in India, broadcast to India's armed forces from New Delhi tonight, making it clear that when an interim government of Indian leaders is formed, his would serve under it "just as commanders in Britain serve under civilian ministers."

"I shall continue to be responsible for the command and welfare of the Army, Navy and Air Force but all political matters will be in the hands of the new War Member, under whom I shall serve," said the General.

Speaking in Hindustani, he briefly surveyed the Cabinet Mission's proposals for a new Indian constitution. The interim government which Field Marshal Lord Wavell, Viceroy of India, proposes to form would carry on the administration, while a new system of government, was being worked out, he said. "And in this temporary government the post of War Member—at present held by myself—will be held by a civilian, who will be an Indian General Auchinleck declared.

Danger of Strife "There can be no doubt that today there is a danger of strife and disorder in the country." While discussions and meetings were going on to decide how India would be governed in the future, "it is the duty of the Navy, Army and Air Force to continue to serve the Government and carry out its orders," he added.

"Whether you are in the Army, Navy or Air Force, you all know the good that comes from discipline and tolerance. You have also learned to live together, Hindu, Moslem, Sikh and Christian in the service of your country without quarrelling or jealousy," he said. "You have learned each to respect the other and work side by side for the object—the good of your country."

"In this, you have given an example to all India. I trust, as I have always trusted, that you will keep on setting this example and do your duty as I have always found you doing in war and peace," General Auchinleck said.

"I, for my part, shall do the same. So long as I am here you may rely on me to safeguard your interests in the future as in the past," concluded.

FUTURE NOW INDIA'S

London, May 18. Political circles in Britain are now busily studying the Cabinet Mission's new plan for India, and reasoned reaction is not likely to be available for a few days.

Even such champions of Indian independence as the Members of Parliament, Reginald Sorensen and W. G. Voce, are reluctant to comment until they have considered the new plan in detail, and had opportunity to assess reactions from political quarters in India, says Reuters political correspondent.

Comment in Parliamentary Labour circles is, for the present, confined to the statement that it is difficult to see what other course the Mission could have taken, and that while the Labour Government backs the Mission's proposals, the future is now in the hands of the people of India.

It is emphasised by Labour spokesmen that Britain has made it very clear to India that her desire for Indian independence is genuine and the Mission had made this abundantly clear to Indian political leaders.

A spokesman of the Conservative Party offered no detailed criticisms, but confined his comment to observing that the Party cannot see the Muslim League accepting the plan.

Like the London press, the provincial newspapers make the new plan for India their main news story and carry lengthy editorials.

Lord Sinha, the only Indian peer, thanked the Mission for their practical statesmanship and understanding of the fact that the world position in 1946 was different from 1942.

Moscow Comment Dr. Herbert Evatt, Australian Minister for External Affairs, said in Paris today that he required more time to study the new plan before making a statement on his country's attitude.

THREAT TO LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, May 18. With only one week's supply, the port of Liverpool is today threatened with a complete stoppage of fresh meat, following the strike of 100 slaughtermen at Stanley, which began last Tuesday.

Prospects of getting meat from alternative sources are slight, and the Jewish community is expected to be the first affected.—Reuter.

General Auchinleck—Reuter.

India Office London, May 18. An immediate winding up of the India Office is not contemplated, an official of that department told the Associated Press today.

Asked if he could clarify the statement attributed to Lord Pethick Lawrence at a press conference in New Delhi that "liquidation of the India Office was proceeding already, and would keep pace with the constitution making," the official said he thought Lord Pethick Lawrence was referring to the gradual transference of powers to India which had been going on for some years.

"This has meant that the number of staff employed at the India Office and the work which was in the hands of the Secretary will have to be considerably lessened," he continued. "The India Supply Commission took over the functions formerly performed by this office in connection with trade."

The future of the India Office, he added, was bound up with the final treaty which would define the future relationship between Britain and India.

Much would depend on whether India decided to remain within the British Commonwealth.—Associated Press.

DESPERATE STRAITS IN U.S.

Washington, May 17. President Truman today announced at a press conference that he had asked Mr. John L. Lewis, Chairman of the United Mine Workers, and the coal owners, to submit their deadlocked contract negotiations to arbitration. He added that Mr. Lewis and Mr. Charles O'Neill (the owners' representative) had agreed that their own efforts to settle the controversy had collapsed.

"The country is in desperate straits as a result of the 42 days' stoppage of the mines, prior to the strike which began on May 12," the President declared.

Molotov Away First

Paris, May 18. Three foreign ministers left here today for home within a few hours of each other after the postponement until June 15 of the "big four" conference on European peace settlement.

The Soviet foreign minister, M. Molotov, was the first away. The Russian delegation which will halt at Berlin on their way to Moscow occupied four Dakota aircraft.

The British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, was the next to leave. Those with him included his deputy, Mr. Gladwyn Jebb, who will return to Paris to discuss outstanding problems with the other "big four" deputies on May 27.

The last to leave was the United States Secretary of State, Mr. James Byrnes, whose plan for a peace conference on Germany next November was today described by the Russian news agency as "clearly a proposal which can give fresh hope to aggressive elements in Germany now trying to raise their heads." M. Molotov arrived back in Moscow tonight.—Reuter.

British Cars Popular

Liverpool, May 18. South America will receive 1,000 motor cars monthly in shipping becomes available as rapidly as it is hoped. Already 28 ships are due to load vehicles at Liverpool during the next six weeks and the bulk will go to South America.

Cars are coming from the manufacturers so fast that the lack of storage space is preventing loading and at present 800 cars are awaiting shipment at Liverpool docks. The biggest demand is from South America, where it is stated here, dealers vie with each other in offering enhanced prices to importers for immediate delivery. To avoid delay, few cars are put in cases but are driven direct to the dockside and loaded from the road into the ships.—Reuter.

EGYPTIAN TALKS CRITICISED

Moscow, May 18. Criticism of Anglo-Egyptian talks by the Egyptian press and politicians are quoted at length by Konstantine Schrezhin today in the Soviet Army organ "Red Star." Schrezhin said that according to "usually well-informed journalistic circles in Cairo," real discussions began behind the scenes long before the appointment of delegations.

He added: "The confidence of the Egyptian nationals in the rightness of their cause and their right to act against all sorts of expropriations hidden from the people and threatening Egypt with a new bondage, now finds its expression in the statements of the defenders of Egyptian independence."—Reuter.

ILLEGAL DREDGING

Five sampan owners, charged with breach of the Emergency (Amendment) Regulations were fined $15 when they appeared before Mr. W. H. Latimer at Bowloon Court yesterday. Defendants were, Lo Sze, 55, Chan Tung, 44, Kwok Sai-so, 50, Chan Yun, 50 and To Fook, 18.

Sub-Inspector Askew, prosecuting, stated that at 9.15 a.m. on May 14 a police launch had come across about 25 sampans engaged in dredging for shell-fish opposite the Yau-mai Police Station. The sampans scattered as the police launch approached, dredges in some instances being thrown overboard. The five sampans caught had each a considerable amount of shellfish on board.

AWARDS FOR SCIENTISTS

Paris, May 18. Two noted British scientists, both Nobel prize winners, will receive honorary degrees from the University of Lyons at the international celebration scheduled to take place on May 21. They are Sir Charles Scott Sherrington, physiologist, and Sir Howard Florey, who developed penicillin in his laboratory at Oxford.

An honorary degree will also be presented to Major-General George Yeater, Canadian Ambassador to France.—Reuter.

There were no developments in the strike of over 400 employees of the Hong Kong Electric Company yesterday, and so far neither side has made any approach to effect a settlement of the dispute.

The strike, which started on the afternoon of Friday, has affected thousands of office workers who, with the stoppage of the trams, have been deprived of their main means of transport to and from outlying areas.

The full burden has fallen on the buses, which throughout the day were jammed to overflowing; no attempt could be made to restrict the accommodation to the legal maximum as each bus was literally mobbed at the stopping points.

Most office workers in the central district walked to and from work, but every conceivable form of transport was brought into use by enterprising Chinese who reaped a harvest all day.

Motor lorries, riskshaws, bicycles and tricycles did a roaring trade, fares charged being way above the official rates laid down by law.

Horse Carts

Most unusual form of transport observed yesterday was a number of wooden carts drawn by horses. The owners of these vehicles were charging $1 from Wanchai to the central district. Owing to the cutting off of current to several districts dealers in candles and kerosene lamps quickly sold out, the prices paid in some cases for candles being $1.80. Some shops were observed hiring out lamps.

An official of the China Light and Power Company stated yesterday that there is no indication of any likelihood of the strike spreading to their employees.

Strikers' Meeting

"Solidarity and Discipline" were the key-words of another meeting.

Representatives of all the different Labour Associations, including the Naval Dockyard and Government employees, attended and pledged their full support, both moral and financial. All speakers made it clear, however, that there was no wish on anyone's part that the strike should spread; it should be confined to a simple issue between the electric company and its employees.

The chairman stressed that they had no desire to disturb the peace and he called on all strikers to preserve discipline and to do nothing to endanger their interests. He denied reports that the strike had a political background and requested both the foreign and Chinese Press to publish his categorical denial that the strike had anything but an economic basis.

He warned the strikers against attempts which might be made to spread disloyalty among them and split their ranks; they should believe nothing but what they were told by the Committee which was in charge and fully competent to handle the dispute between them and the Company.

It was the consensus of the meeting that no decisions as to any further action need be taken, as the next move was up to the Company, which had had ample time to look into things before the strike went into effect.

Pointing out the difficulties experienced in reestablishing the telephone service and the improvisations which have been necessary to enable the service to be extended as far as possible, Mr. R. Farrell, acting manager of the Hong Kong Telephone Co., said that when Hong Kong was re-occupied the company's plant and apparatus were in a deplorable condition—a legacy of Japanese inefficiency.

"There has been neither the time nor the materials to carry out extensive general rehabilitation of the system, work can only be undertaken when the necessary telephone materials and spares begin to reach the Colony in sufficiently large quantities," he said.

Heavy Loading. "Nevertheless, as a result of an intensive effort a high grade of service has been possible and many additional lines have been connected up, in order to enlarge, so far as current resources and safety will allow, the group of telephone users covering the whole of the Colony. This has increased the value of the service not only to the business community but also for administrative purposes. That its value is appreciated is clear from the very heavy loading of lines, resulting in the calls per line being much higher than before the war."

This factor, however, said Mr. Farrell, was a cause of constant anxiety to the Company as it would be apparent that there is a limit to the load which any equipment will handle without breaking down completely.

Below Normal. "This anxiety is accentuated by the knowledge that by reason of improvisations, lack of supplies, and the volume of work to be done by a tired and depleted staff, the standard of maintenance must, of necessity, be below our normal requirements. Even if equipment for additional lines was available, it would be unwise to make connections which might jeopardise the system as a whole by increasing beyond a safe figure the load which the equipment is designed to carry."

Mr. Farrell warned that, with the advent of the wet season, apparatus and wiring which operated satisfactorily under lower humidities will develop faults on a much larger scale than under normal conditions. There must also be taken into consideration the difficulty of quickly making good these faults by reason of the lack of suitable materials and the time necessary to effect repairs.

Every Effort. Mr. Farrell promised that every effort will be made to remedy defects as speedily as is consistent with the facilities available, but he warned that delays are inevitable and he asked subscribers to remember the efforts which have been called for to make the service available to them on a large scale and of a standard that compares very favourably with the service given before the war.

Subscribers can greatly assist by cutting down, wherever practicable, the number of calls which they make—more particularly during the business rush periods from roughly 10.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. and between 2.30 and 4.30 p.m.

WORLD RECORDS CLAIMED

Tokyo, May 18. The United States 5th Army Air Force Headquarters announced today that B-29s flying here from Guam have broken all world records for carrying loads to high altitudes.

The experimental flights were aimed to test the potentialities of Superforts and to break the existing records, most of which were held by Germany and Russia.

The record breaking flights were accomplished without accidents. In one flight, a B-29 carried a 1,000 kilogram load to more than 45,000 feet.—Associated Press.

Shanghai Scramble On Import Market

SHANGHAI, MAY 18.

WHILE CHINESE EXPORT BUSINESS REMAINS IN THE DOLDRUMS BECAUSE OF THE PROHIBITIVE COST OF PRODUCTION, A SCRAMBLE HAS DEVELOPED FOR THE IMPORT MARKET AS BRITAIN AND OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES, UNDAUNTED BY THE CHAOTIC ECONOMIC SITUATION AND THE PREVALENT GENERAL UNCERTAINTY, MAKE A DETERMINED BID TO RECAPTURE THEIR PRE-WAR TRADE POSITIONS IN THIS COUNTRY.

AFTER PERMITTING AMERICAN MERCHANDISE TO ENJOY A VIRTUAL MONOPOLY FOR OVER SIX MONTHS, BRITISH, SWEDISH, SWISS AND OTHER EUROPEAN PRODUCTS ARE BEGINNING TO ARRIVE IN INCREASING VOLUME TO CHALLENGE AMERICAN SUPREMACY.

Since the start of the British worldwide export drive, some months ago, more and more British goods, British offers, British ships and British agents have been arriving in China, and this movement is expected to receive added impetus from two developments soon—conclusion of a new Anglo-Chinese trade agreement, now in course of negotiation, and arrival of a British trade mission.

However, according to all expert opinion, there is no likelihood of the Americans being ousted from their present leading position in the Chinese import market for a long time to come—if ever. But the British are generally conceded to have secured a firm grip on second place.

Flying Start

The Americans have to thank their flying start, while their European rivals were busily rehabilitating and reconverting, for their present strong position here.

For example, American shipping lines had resumed regular Shanghai sailings before the first British commercial ship reappeared in Chinese waters; American goods had flooded the port of Shanghai before any British or European products began arriving; and negotiations for a new Sino-American commercial pact began long before talks started for a new Sino-British agreement.

The China import market, however, is still capable of considerable expansion judging from pre-war records. According to Customs statistics, China imported twice as much from Europe as from the United States before 1937, although American imports far surpassed those from any one European country.

CHINESE IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, May 18.

Hanson Hwang, former secretary (1936-38) of the Shanghai branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, is en route to China as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's director of the 16mm motion picture programme there.

Hwang received his bachelor of arts degree at the university of Shanghai and his master's degree at the university of Pennsylvania, after which he was employed as a clerk in New York's Bank of China from 1940 to 1942. From 1942 to 1945 he was technical adviser to the Harmon Foundation in New York.

Hwang is 33 years old, single, and speaks English and three Chinese dialects.—Associated Press.

States before 1937, although American imports far surpassed those from any one European country.

Exports Dwindle

Meanwhile, China's export trade is rapidly dwindling to nothing as the cost of production and transportation in this country continues to rise.

"The present ratio between import and export business is 100-1," Mr. Chang Hui-chang, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Shanghai Export-Import Trading Guild, reveals, adding that shipments of such popular Chinese commodities as raw silk and bristles are now few and far between.

However, there is no lack of inquiries, especially from the United States, which is said to be particularly interested in tea, wood oil, Manchurian soya bean, hair nets, bristles, raw silk, silk fabric, goat skin, hides, ramie, dried egg, hand-made embroideries, straw braids, cultured pearls, and many other typically Chinese products.—Reuter.

"HUBBA HUBBA"

Washington, May 18.

Hideki Tojo finally has learned what Hubba Hubba means. John Fihely, one of the prosecutors in Tojo's trial, said in a letter to friends here that the former Japanese premier asked him the meaning of the American expression. Informed it meant "hurry hurry" Tojo replied "very interesting."

"Often the guards here prod me in the ribs and say 'hubba hubba.' I always thought it meant remember Pearl Harbour."—Associated Press.

War History Of Glen Line

The M.V. "Glenapp" is now in Hong Kong loading cargo and embarking passengers for London and other U.K. and North Continental Ports.

This visit signals the resumption of Glen Line sailings to the U.K. from Hong Kong after a lapse of some 4½ years since the service was interrupted by the outbreak of hostilities with the Japanese, and it is the Glen Line's Directors' intention to resume the full pre-war service as soon as conditions permit and they can get their fleet in full running order.

It will be of interest to our readers, many of whom must have travelled or shipped cargo in the vessels of this famous Line during pre-war years, to hear how they have fared during the dangerous days and how many of the fleet have survived.

In 1938/1939 the Company laid down a fleet of eight 10-knot ships, two of which, the "Breconshire" and "Glenorchy," were built in Hong Kong and in addition they had eight older ships regularly engaged on the Far Eastern service, making a total fleet of 16 fine vessels.

During the period of hostilities only three of these ships fell victims to the enemy and one, the "Glenorchy," which was building in Copenhagen when war broke out, remained in German hands and was recovered in 1944 when our forces overran the enemy's country, is now being refitted in the U.K.

Three losses The three losses were the "Glenheol," "Glenorchy" and "Breconshire," the first a vessel of 9,400 tons built in 1924 and the last two the new ships built in Hong Kong in 1938. The "Glenheol" was sunk by a Japanese torpedo some 300 miles south of Ceylon in April 1942, fortunately without loss of life, while the "Breconshire" and "Glenorchy" were both sunk in 1942 fighting their way through to beleaguered Malta with much needed supplies for the valiant garrison and civil population of the G.C. Island.

Of the remainder of the new, fast ships the "Glenroy," "Glenearn" and "Glenlyle" were fitted out by the Admiralty as assault headquarters ships, and they have been actively engaged under the White Ensign wherever landings have taken place. The "Glenearn" took part in the operations in Greece in 1941 and again, in the North African Campaign, in 1942. On both occasions she was badly damaged by bombs, but her splendid construction enabled her to survive.

These ships are due to be returned to their owners shortly, and as soon as they can be refitted will appear once more as regular visitors to Hong Kong, together with the ten other ships remaining in the fleet and such replacements as are doubtless the Directors will decide to build in due course.

Unfortunate Impression

Washington, May 18.

A member of the House agricultural committee today rebuked the State Department and Mr. Florentino LaGuardia, director of U.N.R.R.A., for stirring up unjust criticism of American efforts in the food crisis, by issuing "misrepresentative statements."

Mr. John Flannagan, Democrat of Virginia, said such statements "are creating the impression abroad that America is not doing its part in relieving hunger." Mr. Flannagan made his statement during an investigation by his committee of world food conditions.

Clinton Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, one of the witnesses, said that American farmers have done "an exceptionally fine job" toward feeding the world's hungry. He estimated that the United States would fall short by only two per cent of meeting this year's promises on grain export.

Mr. Anderson said that it is expected that the United States will deliver for foreign famine relief by June 30, 392,000,000 bushels of grains as compared with promises of 400,000,000 bushels to that date.—Associated Press.

RUSSIAN WOMAN SCIENTIST

London, May 18.

Ludmila Shvernink, daughter of the Soviet Union's President Nikola Shvernink, who arrived by air in London this afternoon from Berlin for a short visit, will soon be on her way to New York.

An official of the Soviet Embassy here told a reporter: "Miss Shvernink will stay at the Soviet Embassy in London until transport facilities are available for her to travel to the United States. She is a radio engineer, and while working at the Soviet office in New York, she will study the United States radio engineering developments."—Reuter.

CHETNIK TRIAL

Belgrade, May 18.

The trial of Dr. Mihaljevic, former Yugoslav Chetnik leader, has been postponed until June 10, the Ministry of Information announced last night.

No reason was given for the postponement from the expected day in mid-May, but presumably it was in order to continue preparation of the case.—Associated Press.

Sabotaged A Jap. Warship

Pearl Harbour, May 18.

Captain S. B. D. Wood, legal officer for the 14th naval district said today that Fireman Second Class Robert Eby pleaded guilty to sabotaging the Japanese heavy cruiser Sakawa and had been sentenced by court martial.

He said the sentence is not to be disclosed, until approved by both Rear-Admiral Hanson, commander of the 14th naval district Hawaii, and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal.

Four other navy enlisted men are under arrest awaiting the filing of specific charges in connection with the sabotage of the Sakawa while it was en route from Japan to Bikini for the atom bomb test as a target.

Lieutenant David Merrill, chief engineer of the former enemy vessel, said the filthy, stinking ship was sabotaged by the men who thus hoped they would be relieved of the unpleasant duty of manning her.

Some members of the crew removed the pressure line so as to—overspeed her—trip—valves, thus demolishing the ship's fuel system. There was sand in the oil and water pumps and some one had smashed gauges and tachometers, a hacksaw had cut the high pressure steam engines and the fuel oil manifold valves were smashed.

The Sakawa and the battleship Nagato are both at Bikini now after having run out of fuel during the nightmare voyage from Japan during which they had to be towed part of the way.—Associated Press.

GENERAL FRANCO'S PLAN TO SEIZE GIBRALTAR

LONDON, MAY 18.

MOSCOW RADIO TODAY BROADCAST A STATEMENT DESCRIBED AS COMING FROM THE FORMER GERMAN MILITARY ATTACHE IN MADRID AND TANGIER, GENERAL KRAPPE AND COLONEL REMER, NOW PRISONERS IN RUSSIA; DECLARING THAT THE SPANISH PLAN TO SEIZE GIBRALTAR WAS "ABANDONED ONLY BECAUSE HITLER REJECTED THE SCHEME TO INVADE BRITAIN IN FAVOUR OF ATTACKING RUSSIA."

IT SAID SPAIN PARTICIPATED ACTIVELY ON GERMAN'S SIDE DURING THE WAR AND THE SPANISH "BLUE" DIVISION, WHICH FOUGHT AGAINST RUSSIA, WAS FORMED ON DIRECT ORDERS FROM BERLIN.

"High-ranking German officers disguised in Spanish uniforms made use of Spanish neutral planes," the statement said.

"Spanish" radio stations were placed at the disposal of the German military and naval authorities for transmission of information to their armed forces.

The statement added: "In October 1940, the German military attaché in Madrid told Colonel Remer that a Spanish division was ready to storm and would seize the rock of Gibraltar in 20 minutes. The last date on which it was proposed to attack Gibraltar was Jan. 10, 1941."

"According to the plan 'Isabella Fell,' the name given to the operation in which Spain would join in the war, Spanish and Moroccan were to be reinforced by a German Alpine Division, artillery and Air Force formations."

"Spanish Morocco was to be extended along the Sebti River and to include Oran. A mixed Spanish-German force was to be ready to oppose any allied landing in Portugal."

Moscow newspapers published the statement under banner headlines, the radio said.

The radio quoted the statement as saying: "With the Spanish General Staff's consent a counter intelligence branch was established on the premises of the German Embassy in Madrid."

"The Spanish intelligence services supplied Remer with advance information on Anglo-American North African landings."

Report On England
"The German Naval Observation service was allowed by the Spanish authorities to be maintained on the coast of Spanish Morocco, Southern Spain and both shores of the Gibraltar Straits, as a result of which many British and Allied ships were lost."

"In the summer of 1942 the Tokyo, May 17.

A Russian patrol boat, halted and boarded off Dairen a Japanese manned L.S.T., returning Japanese repatriates from China to Japan early this month, it was learned today.

U.S. Navy Rear-Admiral C. B. Momen, who directs Japanese merchant shipping, said the incident was "no cause for complaint."

According to Momen the L.S.T., which sailed from Taku near Tientsin encountered foul weather and got off course.

Attempting to sight a landfall the Japanese skipper took the L.S.T. toward land and approached Dairen.

The patrol craft inquired of the Japanese what they were doing there, then the L.S.T. proceeded to Japan.—Associated Press.

Swing To The Left In Netherlands

Amsterdam, May 17.

The Dutch electorate will vote today for 100 members of the Second Chamber (lower house) of Parliament in the first indication of Dutch political trends since 1937. Samplings of public opinion by newspapers of divergent views have reflected a general swing to the left, but none has suggested a majority for Socialism.

Most experts predict that the Socialist Labour Party of Prime Minister William Schermerhorn will win 35 to 37 seats.

Second place in the party strength is expected to be won by the Catholic Party, composed largely of middle-of-the-road working people. Experts concede them 30 seats.

The Communists may win up to 10 seats, three times their pre-war representation.

Conservative elements are represented in the anti-revolutionary (Calvinist), Christian-historian, and Liberal Parties. Between them, they may win 23 to 25 seats.

Most observers expect to see a Labour-Catholic coalition as the next government.

Indonesia Question

Socialist candidates are urging a programme of planned economy, mobilising the nation's resources for reconstruction, social insurance and old age pensions.

The Indonesian question was the source of differences between the Labour Party and Conservatives in the campaign. Defending his administration against charges of "indulgence" toward the Indonesians, Mr. Schermerhorn said "the revolution in Java is a hard task and the Indonesian revolution is a reality which we have to look at."

Shots Fired At Family Train

Frankfurt, May 17.

Two shots were fired on the night of May 14 at a trainload of American women and children en route to join U.S. occupation soldiers in Germany. The U.S. Army has announced, after keeping the incident secret.

No one was injured. This is the first reported attack on dependants of American soldiers. The fatal shooting last Friday of two American soldiers near Nuernberg is still under investigation.

Officers found bicycle tracks leading from the mountain behind which the train attackers could have hidden themselves. So far, 942 dependants of occupation soldiers and civilian workers have arrived in Germany, with nearly half that figure children. Over 8,000 more are expected to reach Europe within a few months.—Associated Press.

Russia's Trade Sphere

Domination Of Eastern Europe

(By CLARKE BEACH)

WASHINGTON, MAY 18.

RUSSIA MAY BE EXPECTED TO DOMINATE EXPORT-IMPORT COMMERCE, INDUSTRY AND TRANS-PORT IN POLAND, BULGARIA, HUNGARY,
RUMANIA AND YUGOSLAVIA, IN THE OPINION
OF EXPERTS OF THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COM-MERCE.

THE AMERICANS DO NOT EXPECT RUSSIA TO BE A STRONG COMPETITOR IN OTHER MARKETS FOR INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE, HOWEVER.

BRIDGE NOTES

"Is it over right to bid a Grand Slam when a finesse is needed to make it? We did that," a Chicago reader sorrowfully writes, "and the finesse didn't work. Please tell us whether that was just hard luck or whether our bidding was unsound."

The bidding:

It is not right to bid a Grand Slam when you know a finesse will be needed to make the contract. An unsuccessful Grand Slam loses not only the few points scored by the opponents, but also the score you could have made for a successful Small Slam. The gain for the Grand Slam is set;
so you need much better than the even chance offered by a finesse.

It's true, nevertheless, that experts will occasionally bid a Grand Slam in which a finesse is needed. But the finesse could not be predicted during the bidding.

The expert's reasoning was: "This contract ought to be an absolute lay-down; and only at worst will I need a finesse." Such a Grand Slam is not at all unreasonable.

As to the hand in question, we think that North did too much bidding. His bid of three hearts over West's overall was a Slam try in itself. Having announced that he was interested in a Slam, North could then relax and leave the rest of South. Over four clubs North should have bid only four spades—or, at most, five spades. Then South would have bid six spades and all would have been satisfactory. But when North showed control of hearts, exceptional spade support, plus a willingness to play for twelve tricks even if South had only a fair opening bid which included the club Ace—when North showed this optimism South was justified in thinking that a Grand Slam was an absolute lay-down.

Secretary of Commerce
Henry Wallace told me in an interview:

"The Russians will be no peril to use in international trade until they come on the market with competitive goods.
Russian trade is not going to give us any trouble, in your lifetime or mine."

The Russians, Secretary Wallace said, have few finished products to export. Whatever they manufacture is needed in Russia. Therefore, Russia is expected to export only sufficient merchandise to provide credit for purchases of essential foreign goods. From other nations

Russia needs chiefly machinery.
E. C. Ropes, chief of the Russian unit in the Department of Commerce, believe that for at least a generation Russia's industrial capacity will not keep pace with demands of her own people.

Replacing Germany

Ropes believes, nevertheless, that Russia will extend her commercial influence in Central Europe, where Germany formerly was dominant.

In Poland, Bulgaria, Hungary,
Rumania and Yugoslavia, Ropes said, "the Russians may be expected to be favoured in many ways and to occupy a preferred economic position, even a monopolistic one, in industry, transport and foreign trade."

A Berlin dispatch reports that the Deschimag Shipyards of Bremen are being transported to Russia, as reparations under the Potsdam agreement with United States and Britain.
Approximately six shipyards of facilities will be removed.

Daimler-Benz

The Deschimag Shipyards produced cargo vessels up to 10,000 tons and tankers up to 15,000 tons. The facilities were described as in good condition
despite Allied bombings.

Russia also will receive the Kugel ballbearing works, valued at 25,000,000 pre-war marks, 15
railroad carloads of machinery from a Bavarian electric power plant worth about 10,000,000 marks before the war, and the Daimler-Benz aircraft engine factory from near Obergheim.

British Mothers Busy Filling Up "FAM-2"

(By Muriel Penn, Reuters Correspondent)

LONDON, MAY 18. THOUSANDS OF BRITISH MOTHERS ARE NOW FILLING UP FORMS WHICH WILL ENABLE THEM ON AUGUST 6 TO DRAW THEIR FIRST FAMILY ALLOWANCES OF 5/- A HEAD FOR EACH CHILD AFTER THE FIRST.

THESE ALLOWANCES ARE THE FIRST CONCRETE STEP FOR BRITISH PARENTS IN THE NEW FAR REACHING "CRADLE TO GRAVE" SOCIAL INSURANCE AND NATIONAL HEALTH SCHEMES AT PRESENT BEING DEBATED BY PARLIAMENT—AND DISCUSSED AT LENGTH BY A LARGE MAJORITY OF THE POPULATION.

Between now and the beginning of August, it is estimated that some two million mothers in England, Scotland and Wales will have filled up one of the special 7-part Family Allowance forms applying for these grants towards the maintenance of their families. Each form will have been certified as correct by a doctor, clergyman, solicitor, justice of the peace, teacher or other "responsible citizen" chosen by the parent from one of 16 groups listed in Part 6 of the form.

MAY CASE

LONDON, MAY 18. The British association of scientific workers will appeal for a review of the Dr. Alan Nunn May case and for a reduction of his 10-year sentence for disclosing atomic secrets, at its annual council on May 25, it was announced in London yesterday. The Home Secretary, Mr. Chuter Ede, told the House of Commons on Thursday that he had been unable to find any grounds which would justify interfering with the sentence. Associated Press.

Suicide Of Future Governor

Buenos Aires, May 18. The Governor-Elect of Santa Fe Province, Hector Leandro Meiners, who was the principal Labour Party leader in that province, committed suicide because attacks were made against him by the Opposition, after he had been converted to the Catholic religion, according to quarters close to the Labour Party. Meiners, who was a Protestant, followed the example of several members of his family and became converted to Catholicism recently in a small Rosario city church.

Radicals, Progressive Democrats, Socialists and Communists conducted a campaign against him because this, they said, was not due to his sincere desire to become a Catholic, but because the Constitution of the Santa Fe government stipulates that the Governor must be of the Catholic religion. This belief, however, is overriden by a letter which Meiners left, saying: "Let no one be blamed for my death. I committed suicide because I do not feel physically fit to discharge the duties as Governor of Santa Fe and I do not wish to disappoint the electorate." Meiners was elected by an overwhelming majority in the February elections. Reuter.

Woodcock Knocked Out In Fifth Round

After a thrill-packed four rounds, Tami Mauriello knocked out Bruce Woodcock, the British and Empire heavyweight champion, in New York in the fifth round of their fight. Woodcock won the third and fourth rounds after Mauriello took the first two.

While no praise is high enough for Woodcock's display last night all the New York critics make the point that lack of experience, probably told against him.

Some of the veteran critics who have seen other Englishmen in America think that Woodcock is the best ever "to hit these shores," and when he is more experienced they consider that he will be at the top of the heavy-weight division.

The American promoter Mike Jacobs told Woodcock to return to the States any time as he will have "plenty more fights." It is likely that Woodcock will return in time to watch Joe Louis against Billy Conn, after which he will make an extensive American tour.

One critic said: "Woodcock is a great fighter and worthy of any American heavyweight." Another said "he made the showing," while Mauriello admitted "he gave me a hell of a fight and anyone saying he has no left or that he cannot box is crazy." Jack Solomon, the famed London promoter, said: "Bruce put up a good show and I tried to persuade his manager to frustrated the plan to raise his deposits. There were no objections. HAVANA, May 18.—An official statement issued by the Cuban Army today said that a small revolutionary movement headed by an army group with civilian connections attempted to seize the Cuban Army Headquarters at Camp Columbia, near Havana. The attempt was frustrated, he added. Senator Eddy Chibas stated officially that there is complete order throughout Cuba with all armed forces entirely loyal to the constituted powers. The cause of the excitement at Camp Columbia, which led to exaggerated reports of a revolution, he said, was an attempted surprise attack by a group of unidentified persons on the headquarters of the Cuban Army. The attack was repulsed and the persons responsible were being sought.

HAMMOND SELECTION NO SURPRISE

(By Ronald Legge)

LONDON, May 18. The selection of Walter Hammond, of Gloucestershire, to captain England in the three cricket Test Matches against India this season, was expected for he was a notably successful skipper in the Tests against Australia in 1938.

Prior to that season Hammond had played as a professional, and his announcement that he intended thereafter to play as an amateur came at an opportune moment, for it solved the selectors' problem of finding a suitable captain.

HOME CRICKET

Cambridge, May 17. India beat Cambridge University by an innings and 19 runs here today, Cambridge in their second innings being all out for 138, after Pataudi had declared at 335 for six wickets.

The Varsity batsmen, apart from Bodkin and Shuttleworth, cut poor figures against Hazare, Shinde and Sawate, who had five wickets for 68 runs. In bowling one man, Sawate, who made the ball turn a lot both ways, smashed the middle stump.

Pataudi and Modi put on 220 for India's fourth wicket when they continued battling in the morning, both reaching centuries. Neither hit the ball hard, Pataudi having nine fours in his 121 and Modi only five in his 103.

Results of matches today were: At Cambridge: India 335 for six declared, Modi 103, Pataudi 121, beat Cambridge 178 and 138 (Sawate five for 58) by an innings and 19 runs. At Derby: Leicestershire 184 and 296 for three (Watson 108, Berry 121 not out) beat Derbyshire 276 and 202, by seven wickets.

At Lords: Middlesex 289 for nine declared and 160 for six declared, beat Somerset 304 and 55 (Gray five for 27, Young five for 11) by four wickets. At Oxford: Oxford University 374 (Donnelly 139), and 193 for seven declared (Donnelly 95) beat Lancashire 229 and 262, by 70 runs.

At Hove: Sussex 450 for nine declared (Langridge 132, Cox 67) and 51 for one, beat Worcestershire 203 and 207 (Singleton 104) by nine wickets. Reuter.

His limited experience in leading an eleven caused some doubts to be expressed about the wisdom of the choice at the time, but Hammond proved himself a wise tactician and an inspiring captain.

His cricketing skill is a household word wherever the game is followed, and he has been described as the greatest all-rounder who has ever played. Only a select few have equalled his powers with the bat. His slip fielding is a model, and he is an extremely skilful bowler who has taken the wickets of the world's greatest batsmen at critical junctures in England's fortunes.

It would require a chartered accountant to compile a complete record of Hammond's individual records in first class cricket, which he has been playing since 1920.

Outstanding Feats

His outstanding achievements are:—

- 1—Most runs in Tests, 6,883.
- 2—Most centuries in tests 22.
- 3—Most appearances in tests 77.
- 4—Most innings in tests 127.
- 5—Most catches in tests 101.
- 6—Only cricketer who has scored 700 runs in four consecutive test innings.

7—Headed English batting averages in seven successive seasons 1933-1939.

8—Most catches in a season, 78, in 1928.

9—Most catches in a match, 10, versus Surrey in 1928.

Hammond has compiled over 25,000 runs, three times getting over 3,000 in a single season. He shares two world records—with J. B. Hobbs, scoring two separate centuries in a first class match on six occasions, and with W. G. Grace compiling 1,000 runs in 22 days of cricket's opening month of May. Associated Press.

MCC CHOOSES A STRONG TEAM

LONDON, May 18. Marylebone Cricket Club have chosen a powerful team to oppose the Indian test team at Lords on May 25, 27 and 28. The team will be captained by Brian Valentine, the Kent captain, who is a sterling bat, while the others are R. E. C. Wyatt, the former Warwickshire captain and bat, who may play for Worcestershire this season, H. A. B. Marsham of the M.C.C., a slow leg-break bowler, S. C. Griffith, (Sussex), wicket-keeper in all the test matches against Australia last summer, H. T. Bartlett, the Sussex left-hander bat who was born in India, P. A. Gibb, (Yorkshire), one of the best amateur wicket-keepers in England, J. G. W. Adcock, the Kent all-rounder, and slow-off-break bowler, A. P. Singleton, the Worcestershire captain and a strong bat and slow-off-break bowler, A. W. H. Mallett, the Kent fast bowler, W. J. Edrich, the Middlesex all-rounder, and L. Gray, the Middlesex fast bowler. Reuter.

H.K. BASEBALL

(By "Fair Play")
A "One Round" Baseball Competition has been organized under the sponsorship of Mr. Au-Yang Po Ki. He is also presenting a Silver Cup and Medals. Managers of teams who wish to participate in this competition are requested to communicate with Mr. Au-Yang (Tel. 34807) for latest details by the end of this month. The competition will start next month. Equipment will be supplied by Mr. Au-Yang.
It is hoped that Mr. Au-Yang will also sponsor a "Two Round" competition.

U.S. BASEBALL

New York, May 18. The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Cincinnati Reds Friday in a game called at the end of six and one-half innings because of rain. Although the Reds had the lead, the Phillies won 4-3. The game was played at night and the Phillies were victorious.

Chinese Win Charity Game

In spite of transport difficulties, a fairly large crowd witnessed the Charity football game at Causeway Bay yesterday, in aid of the St. Dunstan Fund, between Combined Chinese and Combined Services which resulted in a two goal win for the Chinese.

Services did not deserve to lose as they had as much of the game and had hard luck on several occasions. In the second period had most of the game.

Lei Shui-wing opened the scoring for the Chinese and shortly after Lee Wai-long increased the lead. Brown, Hanlon and Keadley came near scoring several times. There was no scoring in the second half.

This was the last game organized by the Rehabilitation Football League. The stands at Causeway Bay are to be demolished and the ground returned for next season.

The following are the teams: Services—Pope (R.A.F.), Hong (Navy) and Carr (Navy); Bennett (R.A.F.), Smith (R.A.F.) and Wills (Navy); Townsley (R.E.), Hanlon (R.A.F.), Brown (R.A.F.), Keadley (R.A.F.) and Lodge (Navy). Chinese—Chu Shu-Hang (Eastern); Hau Yung-sang (Eastern) and Te Kam-hung (South China); Fung Kwan-sing (Kwong Wah), Hau King-sing (Eastern) and Kwong Ying-lee (South China); Tang Kwong-sun (Eastern), Fung King-cheung (Eastern), Lee Wai-long (South China), Lei Shui-wing (Eastern) and Wong King-chung (Kwong Wah). Referee—C. P. O. Rogers. Lineament—Lt. Young, L/S Sparrow.

Carnera "One Fellow My Size"

Sacramento, Calif., May 18. Buddy Baer said today he hoped Primo Carnera, the one-time Italian heavyweight boxer, comes to the United States "because that's one guy I am delighted to fight; he is one fellow my size."

Baer said he thought the fight with the "Ambling Alp," if any, would be held in Chicago. A staff correspondent of the Rome edition of "Stars and Stripes," U.S. army newspaper, reported from Gorizia that Carnera, former world heavyweight champion, announced he would sail to the United States at the end of May to fight Baer in Sacramento.

Carnera, who is now close to 40 years old, was quoted as saying it would be his last fight, since he was too old for the game. Carnera was beaten in four straight matches by Louis Musulin, Italian claimant to the European heavyweight title, with the latest defeat May 13 at Gorizia.

The "Stars and Stripes" reporter said that contrary to most reports Carnera has some money left from his tour of the United States 13 years ago and hopes to add the purse from the Baer fight to his bankroll and open a bar and grill in New York, later sending for his wife and two children. ## BURTON SAILS FOR THE U.S.

Liverpool, May 18. Dick Burton, the British open golf champion, embarked on the Swedish liner Gripsholm at Liverpool tonight on his way to New York to meet the American champion, Byron Nelson, in two matches on May 29 and 30.

Burton had a bag full of 14 clubs and a heart full of hope as he went on-board the all-white luxury liner.

He is travelling alone and expects to stay in American long enough to take part in the American open championship on June 13.

He is going to meet Nelson as a result of a cabled invitation three weeks ago from American golfing circles. Although he was introduced to Nelson when the American Ryder Cup team won at Southport in 1937, Burton had never played with him, soon his rival in action.

"But judge by his scores, he must be good," Burton told a reporter. "We should have a good match."

Burton hopes also to play in a "round robin" tournament with the Americans on June 2.

He said that he does not expect the large American "pals" would give him much trouble, although it detracted considerably from the length of the drive especially in the wind. Reuter.

Burton and Nelson, who met in 1937, were both world champions. Burton was the British champion and Nelson was the American champion.
